VOL. V. NO. 226.

CHICAGO, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1899.

PRICE, 5 CENTS

MUDLARKS' DAY AT HARLEM.

There was mud of the worst degree at Harlem yesterday, and consequently the talent suffered. Still they did not fare so badly, as most of the winners had a perfect right on form to score, and, barring King's Highway's victory, which was certainly out of line, no other fault could be found with the racing.

Scandal-mongers must exist and after Hosi had won the mile and a half race, they were very much in evidence. For some unknown reason Jack Bradley was made a stout favorite for this race. He never was of much account as a racehorse, and when 4 to 5 was offered against him the public, which seems to be up to date, naturally dodged him. There was nothing else to back then but Hosi, and the way the "wise ones" sent the coin in on him was a caution. He was at his best and there was never a spot in the road where he did not hold the others safe. Long Dandy troubled him some during the early stages of the journey but when the pinch came he died away. Hosi won and won as he pleased and Pete Kitchen, stiff and sore, best Long Dandy for second place. Jack Bradley was never in the hunt and finished last, beaten off.

That King's Highway should come to the front in his race was a surprise to close observers. He did, however, and won like a gentleman from Molo and Tappan in the last race of the day. His last race was a very ordinary one and on it he did not have a chance to win. Still he was backed and won. It was a very interesting race to look at, especially through the stretch. Molo seemed to hold the other two, Tappan and King's Highway, safe, but he evidently was short and in the last twenty yards quit. Then it was a question as to which would get the money. Mitchell was on King's Highway, and he easily outrode M. Weber and got the verdict.

John Baker's win at three-quarters of a mile over Verity, May Beach and other good ones was a clever performance. May Beach was giving away a lot of weight to everything and although Burns rode her the handicap in other ways was against her and she drifted from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1. She got a running start, but was never dangerous and finished absolutely last. John Baker won and won in a high class way. Rose rated him in behind the leaders to the head of the stretch and then he sent him along. He got to Verity below the sixteenth post, and after that there was nothing to it. This John Baker is a fast little horse, and it is to Mr. McMillan's credit that he always runs consistently.

It seems a shame to ask a two-year-old filly to run a mile or over in deep mud. But the firm of Brannon & Moore asked this of their filly Ida Ledford. She is a filly with some pretensions to good class and being lightly weighted, was warmly supported. She was always near the front and won like a stake filly should win in common company.

Florinel II. was the lucky one of the twenty that started in the first race. After getting off in front she held her own all the way and won off by herself.

The judges scratched Barrier and Nokomo in the second race according to Turf Congress rules. It seems that both horses were raced at tracks within fifty miles of Chicago for purses below the standard required by American Racing Rules.

TANFARAN PARK.

Twelve miles from San Francisco, twenty minutes ride by the steam cars, there is now building one of the most beautiful racetracks in the west. Tanfaran Park it is called, and the name is both euphonious and reminiscent, being that of one of the early Spanish families who lived on and owned the land long before before it was ever dreamed that this western slope of the northern continent would be the brightest gem in the constellation of the United States. Tanfaran Park is the property of the Western Turf Association, an organization of leading gentlemen and capitalists of San Francisco, of which W. J. Martin is president, Charles F. Gardner vice-president and F. H. Green secretary. The property on which this track and buildings are being constructed is close to San Bruno station in San Mateo county, and consists of 150 acres of level land. Along the south and west sides of the tract are a line of beautiful and tall eucalypti, which by a strange coincidence were partly planted by the hands of the secretary of this association when a youth, his father at that time owning the property.

The track, which is now nearly completed, will be a regulation mile, but there will also be added a new feature in the way of a straight away course of three-quarters of a mile, extending direct from the grandstand for the use of two-year-olds. Paddocks will be set apart and stables, carriage-houses and the other ordinary appurtenances of the racetrack will be built, while as a special feature of Tanfaran Park, the judges' and timers' stands will be movable, so that they may be put to one side when desired to give a clear field from the grandstand on the occasion of polo, baseball, football and other athletic sports taking place.

After all, however, the main feature will be the grandstand, which will be located close to the railroad track and be on plans prepared by Bliss & Faville, of this city. Only 120 feet will separate it from the station, and this distance will be traversed by those arriving by the cars by means of a covered way to the stairways leading to tiers of seats, which will be built to accommodate 4,000 spectators.

The structure will be 254 feet in length and 108 feet in width. The large openings will be treated in segmental arches following the style of the Italian renaissance, carried on slender wrought iron columns in front so as not to obstruct the view of the races. The betting ring will afford an unobstructed view of the events and give a full sight of the finishes. The great feature of the building will be the entrance staircase, which will be seventy feet in width, leading first to the intermediary story and then to the main floor of the grand stand. Immediately in front of the entrance at a slightly raised elevation will be the betting ring. The stairs will then divide to right and left, giving access to the other parts of the grandstand and notably to the seats either by the intermediary or the main floor. On the main floor will be a small dining room, a lunch room, a kitchen, barber shop, check room and other conveniences. A ladies' gallery, giving a full view of the betting ring, retiring rooms for the ladies, parlors, etc., will be the principal arrangement of the intermediary floor. Directly in the rear of the seats on the second story will be a magnificent promenade 210 feet in length and 40 feet in width, enclosed on all sides by glass, for use between the races, while from the rear of the promenade will be a balcony permitting those already arrived to watch the approach of the later comers. On that floor there will also be a dining and a wine room. Finally, projecting from the roof will be two ornamental dormers, with plate-glass windows for the use of the turf reporters, who, in addition, will be furnished with a room for the reception of their friends, and telegraphic and telephonic conveniences.—San Francisco Breeder and Sportsman.

Winner—Ch. c, by Fonso—La Belle III.
Post 15 minutes. Start good considering the size of the field. Won hand ridden; second and third were doing their best. Florinel II. was fortunate in getting off, liked the going and had little or no trouble in winning. Antonietta was too much used early and at the end she was staggering. This is a fairly good filly but seems to be always in bad luck. Kittie G. broke from behind flying and had no excuses. Castine ran a good race. The field stung out early and at the finish was spread all over the track. Form to be extracted from this finish amounts to little or nothing.
Scratched—14520 Irish Jewel, 95.
Overweights—Flora Lee, 4 pounds; Sprung, 4; Winnebejour, 3.

Winner—Ch. g, by Pirate of Penzance—Mary Winnifred.
Post 4 minutes. Start good. Won very easily; second and third were driving. Hosi evidently had been specially prepared for this race and won as he pleased. Trotter rode a good even race on him. Pete Kitchen plodded along at the same gait all the way and wore Long Dandy down through the stretch. The latter suffered from poor handling. Dugan wore him out in opening up a big gap after going about three-quarters and the horse had nothing left to finish with. Jack Bradley could not get out of his own way.
Scratched—(14182) Barrier, 87; 14315 Nekomo, 90.

Winner—Ch. h, by Sequin—Lula Baker.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won cleverly; second, third and fourth were under keen pressure. John Baker liked the going, was the best and was best ridden, and ran a really clever race. He came from behind like a gentleman in the stretch and was going away at the finish. Verify had bad racing luck early, and this told on him when the pinch came. Mark J. H. C. He finished resolutely under weak handling. Mitchell rode a bad race on Moroni. The horse was good, and better handled would have been a keen contender. Hop Scotch quit badly in the stretch. So did May Beach. The latter could not concede the weight in the going. When Burns saw he was beaten he eased the filly up.
Scratched—(14601) Sam Lazarus Esq., 104; 14602 Mocerito, 99.
Corrected weight—Moroni, 102.

Off at the first break to a good start. It was a drive for the place. Ida Ledford had the most speed and ran a good, game race. Monongah is a good mudder and although not ready, he did well. He finished strong on his own courage. Florizar quit badly in the last fifty yards. Dutch Bard was a false alarm. Pass him up.

Winner—B. c, by Cavalier—Lena Oliver.
Off at the first break to a good start. Won under a double pull. The others were doing their best. Sam Fullen was in a soft spot and was away off the best. He simply romped under a double pull all the way. Bonnard and Decoy seemed to try to outdo one another at swerving in the stretch. Both were tired enough to lie down and staggered like drunken men. Knight was too light to do Tommy O'Brien justice. The colt needs a big strong boy to hustle him all the way. Outside of the winner it was a very tired lot at the finish.
Scratched—14359 Nettie Regent, 92; 14383 Dick Furber, 95.

Post 6 minutes. Start good. The first three were driving to the limit. King's Highway is a most consistent horse. He must be a sulker. Mitchell rode a good race and a strong finish. Tappan was the best and should have won by a big margin. M. Weber rode him badly. The price on Tappan was away out of line. Molo was short and hung in the last twenty yards. He looked like a winner at the head of the stretch. The going was against Jackanapes. Albertvale was sharply shut off on the far turn and had to pull up almost to a standstill. Jennie F. did well as far as she went. Rollins could not run fast enough to keep warm.
Scratched—14571 Mary Kinsella, 101; (14602) Harry Thoburn, 104.
Overweights—Catastrophe, 3 pounds.
